Truth Be Told— You Had Me In Tears Twice!

By: Jack Jackson

I had accompanied three 21-year-old preachers from OpenAirOutreach.com (Miles, Eli and Evan) to University of California Riverside (UCR) two days before Thanksgiving. Determined to get up and preach on Wednesday, I felt an opening as Miles was debating a young man about evolution. Those who know me know that I am a scientist and study the evolution vs. creation debate and side with creation. I couldn't resist a chance to get in there and let the Lord work through me.

Remembering a story from "Way of the Master" about how it was easier to prove there was gold in China than proving there was none, I turned the table on the man and suggested I would give him, or anyone else, an easier task than what he asked me to prove. They merely had to give me one contradiction that would prove the Bible wasn't reliable. No one could bring even one contradiction, silencing that man.

Again, I thought I was free to preach the gospel, when from the side, an atheist spoke up and

As the debate continued, the Lord brought to mind facts and teachings He had equipped me with. After 15 minutes of fact after fact, I pointed to a young atheist that evolution was not true. The evolutionist had to say. I thought I had obtained a chance to preach the gospel, when another man the first started to criticize the Bible and ask me to prove truth.

started a third debate on why anyone would follow a God who killed innocent people like in Sodom and Gomorrah. I asked that man if he even knew what those people did to make God so mad, and he had to admit he never really knew.

I told him, and the crowd, that the whole city had made the rape of men by other men a sport that the whole city participated in, whether directly or by cheering on those who did. I explained that this was truly a Satan had so blinded them (2 Cor. 4:3-4). I had a deep sense for how much God needed to show up and drop their blinders with His weapons that are not carnal but mighty through Him (2 Cor. 10:4-

Why does our envelope now say "East West Missionary Service?"

Because we have so many outreaches now (15 per year), plus getting Bibles and tracts mailed out almost daily, we hired East West to do our mailing. They are doing a great job. They must use their return address on the envelopes because they use their bulk mail permit instead of ours. This frees us up to accomplish God's mission He's

My cousin was warned by her doctor that if she continued to drink, she would not survive. She did however, continue to drink, and after a bad binge, she was taken to the hospital in critical condition. I went to see her. I brought her a Bible, flowers, and a teddy bear. She was barely able to talk and extremely sick, so I decided to wait another day to ask her if she was ready to receive Jesus as her Savior.

That night she fell into an alcohol withdrawal coma and died a few days later, never regaining consciousness! I missed the short window of opportunity to share Christ with her.

Therefore, I learned the

12 Day Trip to Australia

by Mel Ger

Randy Shumate called me to see if I would like to go to Australia with him on a mission trip. I said, "Sure, Randy!" We left on September 18 and returned on September 29, 2006. We landed in Brisbane and headed for the Gold Coast to Surfer's Paradise.

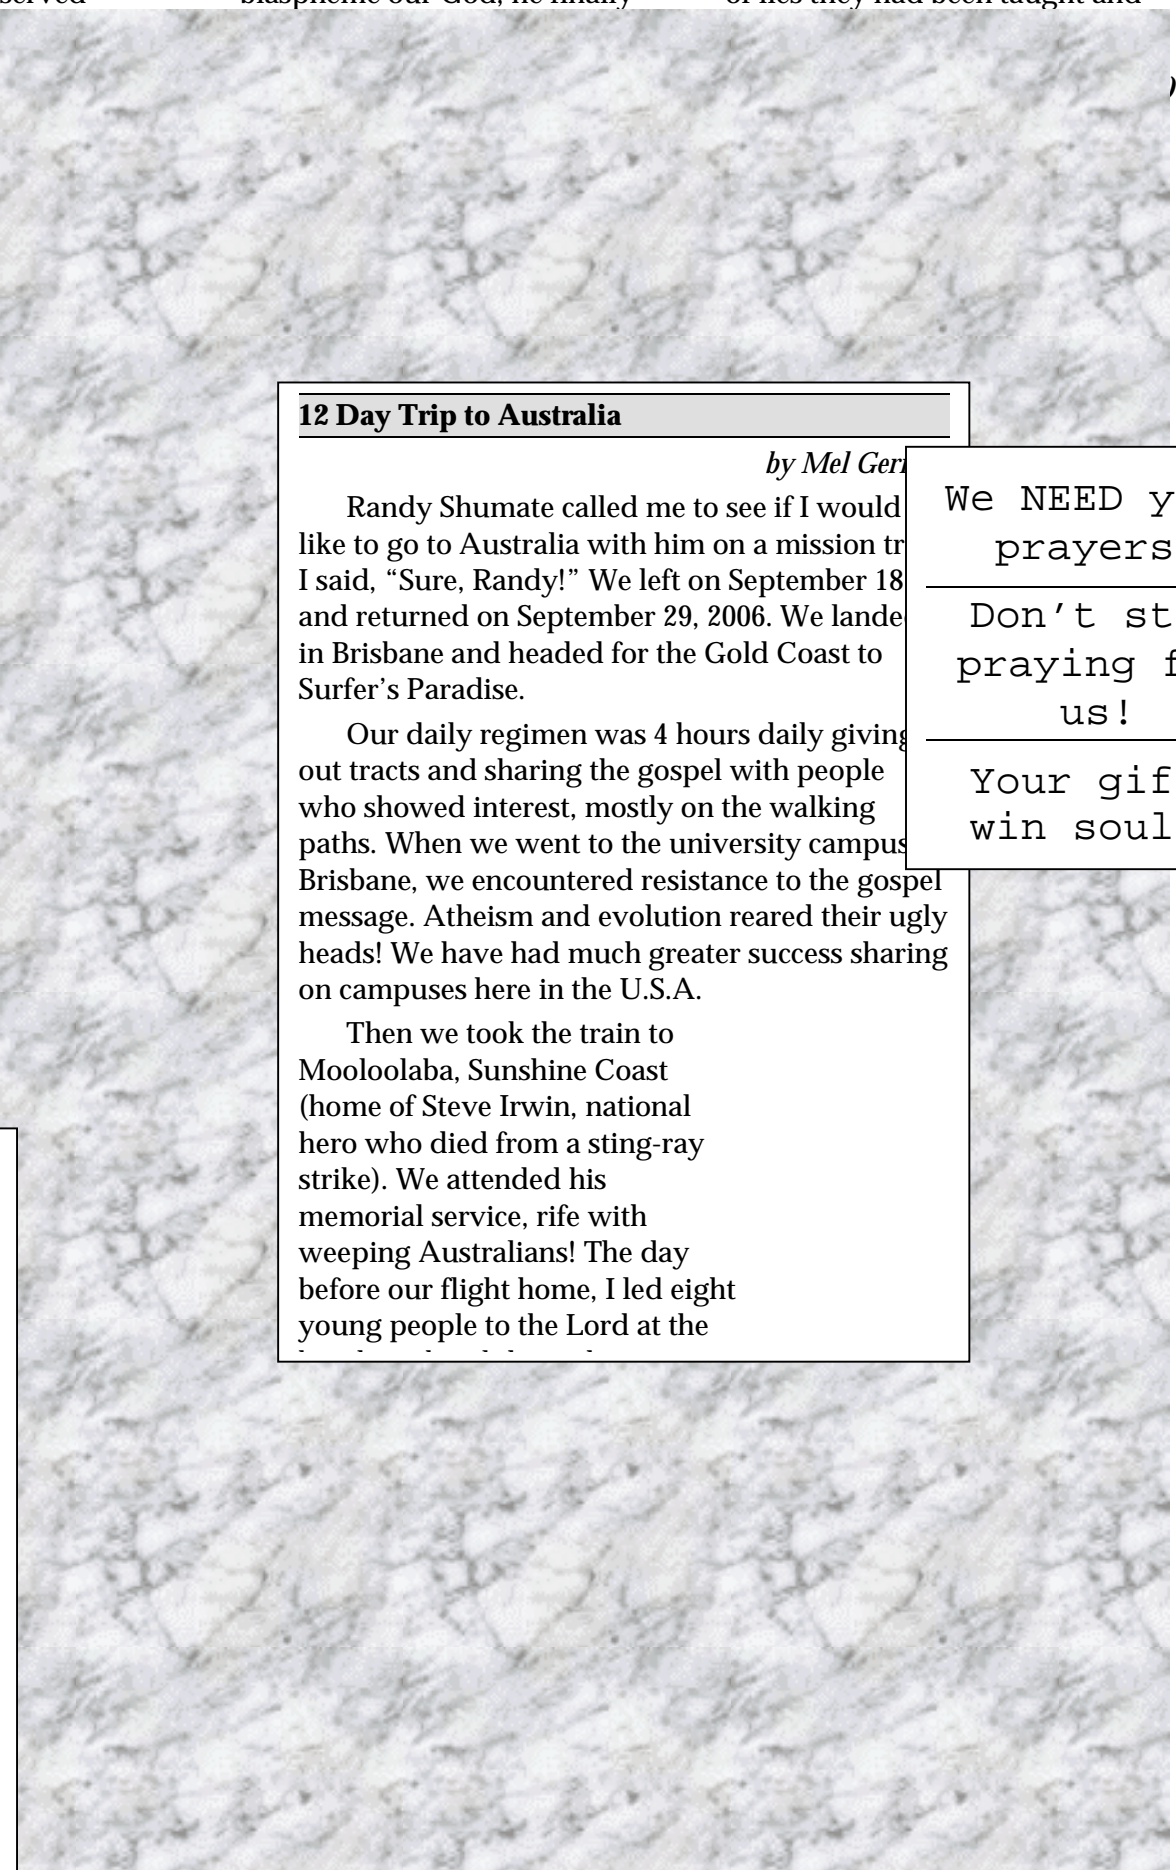

Our daily regimen was 4 hours daily giving out tracts and sharing the gospel with people who showed interest, mostly on the walking paths. When we went to the university campus in Brisbane, we encountered resistance to the gospel message. Atheism and evolution reared their ugly heads! We have had much greater success sharing on campuses here in the U.S.A.

Then we took the train to Mooloolaba, Sunshine Coast (home of Steve Irwin, national hero who died from a sting-ray strike). We attended his memorial service, rife with weeping Australians! The day before our flight home, I led eight young people to the Lord at the direction and prayer. One was the atheist who had debated me, strangely enough, who wanted to know more. The last was also an atheist who had been quietly listening and taking it all in. He talked with me directly afterwards with a small group, but said he wanted to tell me something before I left. Not knowing if that meant he wanted to curse at me or not, he looked at me and said "Truth be told, you had me in tears twice!" I looked back and without thinking said "Truth be told, the Holy Spirit had you in tears twice!" He turned, said he had much to think about, and walked away.

Praise be to our Lord!
